IMA Sangli and Deccan Haematology Group (DHG) is proud to host CME in Haematology 2017 at Sangli on 12th Nov. 2017. Haematology is a branch in medicine which has proliferated from mere palliation to cure for majority of haematological illnesses. The success of stem cell transplant has changed the total dynamics of managing life threatening haematological illnesses. The beauty of this branch is that every new understanding of human genetics is directly translated to success in patient diagnosis and management. With this in mind and current need, we have planned this CME from Bench to Bedside in Haematology. Eminent Hematologists, Scientists and Haematopathologists from different parts of country are invited for this academic feast.

With warm regards,

Dr. Sandeep Nemani
(Organizing Secretary)
