Preface

*IHC is more than just the “mantra of this Era”
It transforms “maybes’ to a firmer “yea” or “nay”
Cells dazzle when they turn all yellow brown,
That color offers answers that can shock, or evoke frowns!
Can Labs afford to miss or skip this test?
You answer this, when back at home... you judge & cogitate.*

The world of pathology has changed from the pink and blue of H & E, to brown and blue of IHC. We live in an era which demands definite confident answers, and quality of a high standard. IHC has taken center stage, though, it is very likely that molecular path will be sharing this stage in future, or may even edge IHC out into a corner. As of today, IHC is unquestionably here to stay.

We invite all our fellow pathologists to spend a weekend with us, sharing their experiences about IHC, and learning from some of our brightest colleagues who have worked and slogged at ‘getting things right with IHC’.

The workshop is a platform for our technicians and youngsters to learn “hands-on”, ask questions & share information on this technology. Information on standardization and validation of IHC technique by both automated and manual method will be provided along with emphasis on troubleshooting areas. This will be a workshop for an intellectual exchange of ideas, and in the process of teaching, it is more than likely that the teachers too will be ‘taught’ by you.

The lectures and the case discussion were carefully chosen to ignite the fires of curiosity, and help in our detective work of discovering diagnostic clues, prognostic markers, and innovative research questions. The world shall not leave us behind. With IHC as our armor, we can stand shoulder to shoulder with our Western counterparts, and offer our patients both quality and accuracy.
