Hemolytic anemias constitute a major public health problem and they often pose as a diagnostic dilemma to hematologists. The clinical manifestations are diverse and wide array of diagnostic tools are currently available for a definite diagnosis.

The Update is intended to give an in depth view of Clinical and laboratory aspects of hemolytic anemia. The update will include demonstration of techniques and case discussions.

We cordially invite the postgraduates, practicing Pathologists, Pediatricians & Physicians for this academic feast.

Thanking you,

Yours sincerely,

Dr. Karuna Rameshkumar
Dr Cecil Ross
