

Congenital Acute Myeloid Leukemia

 2:15:58 PM/23-05-2009	 2:26:48 PM/23-05-2009
BM aspiration in high power showing one osteoclast in a 3 month old baby with congenital Acute leukemia.	Congenital leukemia (AML) showing 5 leucoblasts and 2 promyelocytes with another 6 more mature myeloid cells and 4 erythroblasts.
 2:31:56 PM/23-05-2009	 2:48:34 PM/23-05-2009
Congenital Acute Myeloblastic leukemia showing three Monocytoid blasts (a conspicuous feature in Cong.AML) along with about 8 Myeloid-blasts.	MPO stain showing peroxidase positivity in about 1/3rd of the blasts in the Congenital AML same patient as shown on the left.

Note:-This baby had violaceous dermal patches as skin infiltration commonly seen in Congenital AML